

Happy New Moon Day to all who worship Yahuah Alahim and Yahusha haMashiach on their Kadosh (set apart) Lunar New Moons and Sabbaths!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FUb6QjzvRXU>

Today is Day One of the Creator's authentic Twelfth Lunar Month, in which the year begins in the spring. It looks like 12-01-5994. It coincides with the Roman Gregorian solar calendar Tues, 03-03-2026.

Each month, it is awe-inspiring to watch the full moon rise in the East and make its way along the east-west time continuum under the Creator's tireless direction. Then, see with your own eyes that moment when the sun's first rays shine forth to greet the descending full moon before it sets in the west. They greet each other with a nod and an agreement that this moment, visible from opposite coordinates, marks the start of the new lunar month. Honoring His New Moons, as declared from His sacred Torah Law, shows Him who desires to enter through the pearly gates of His Eternal Kingdom government. I hope to see you there! HalleluYah!

Psalms 89:15-16

THE END OF THE STORY

Jonathan Cahn

“What is it,” asked the teacher, “that makes a story good or bad, happy or sad? What if I told you the story of a man hated by his own family, sold into slavery, taken to a foreign land, thrown into a prison for a crime he didn’t commit, and was forgotten by man and, it seems, by Alahim (God). What kind of story would you say it is?”

“A sad story. A story of injustice and oppression...a tragedy.”

“But the story is from the Book of Genesis. And the man is Joseph. And He will end up being released from prison, given a position of great honor, saving Egypt from famine, and being reconciled to his family.

“Now would you still say the story is sad and tragic?”

“No. I would say the story is one of triumph.”

“And you would be right,” he said. “The parts of a story are not all of equal weight. A happy story with a tragic end is not a happy story, but a tragic one. A tragic story with a triumphant ending is not a tragic story, but a triumphant one. You can never judge a story by its beginning or middle, or by any of its parts before its ending. It is the ending of the story that determines everything that went before it.

Always remember that. The nature of the story is determined by its end...so too the story of your life. You can never judge your story by your current circumstances or problems. And as long as you're on earth, you haven't seen the end of the story."

"So then one can never know what kind of story you're in."

"Not so," said the teacher. "If you're a child of Alahim (God), the end of the story is revealed." "Which is..."

"Victory, restoration, triumph, blessing, joy, and glory. And it is that end that makes your life a good story, a wonderful story. Therefore, when you look at your life, see everything in the light of that ending...every problem, every defeat, every sorrow, every failure, every evil...they're only the components of a story of triumph over sin and evil, unto eternal glory. Fix your eyes on the end of the story. And press on to that end. For it is that end that makes your story and your life... a great one."

The Mission: No matter what you're going through today or in your life, believe, look to, and live in confidence to the end of the story. Job 42:10-17; Luke 24:46-53; 2 Corinthians 2:14; Hebrews 12:1-2.

Disclaimer: "The Book of Mysteries" by Jonathan Cahn presents a series of lessons he attributes to "The Teacher" in the land of Yasharal (Israel). While we do not affirm all of Cahn's interpretations or theological positions, we welcome the insights that harmonize with Scripture.

Kerrie's Korner: Last night, no doubt some of us were able to witness the blood red lunar eclipse. We had clear skies here in Northern California, so I had a great view of it in the western sky.

Lunar eclipses are time-centered phenomena that tell us that our Creator is still in control and that timekeeping on His calendar has never been altered. Although we can figure out when the New Moon Days will occur in advance with modern technology. The blood red moon, or any lunar eclipse, is the surest sign that the moon has crossed the line of opposition to the sun. This reality announces that the New Moon Day will begin the following sunrise.

The question often arises: how can the New Moon Day occur on the same calendar date that the world identifies as the full moon? Should these not fall on two separate days? At first glance, it appears contradictory. In reality, the confusion stems from two different methods of reckoning time.

The modern civil calendar begins its day at midnight, counting the dark hours after midnight as the start of a new date. In contrast, Scripture presents the day as beginning at sunrise, with the daylight portion first and the night that follows completing that same day in natural sequence. This fundamental difference in when a "day" begins shifts how celestial events are assigned to specific dates.

Thus, when a full moon occurs during the nighttime hours after midnight, the civil calendar assigns it to the new date that began at midnight. Yet according to a sunrise-to-sunrise reckoning, those nighttime hours still belong to the previous daylight period. What appears to be a paradox is therefore not a contradiction in the heavens, but a difference in timekeeping systems.

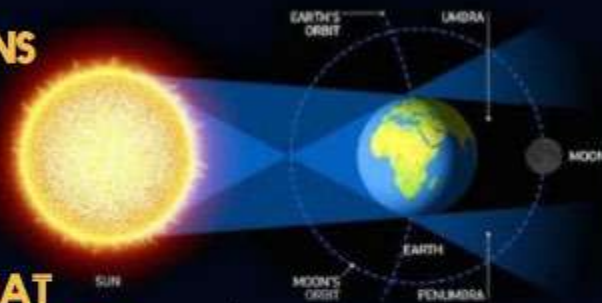

This new month serves as a clear example. The perceived conflict arises only because two distinct frameworks are being used: one civil and midnight-based, and the other Scriptural and sunrise-based. Once the starting point of the day is understood, the apparent discrepancy resolves itself.

This is why we cannot trust modern calendars alone to give us the correct date for the full moon, which announces the following sunrise as the New Moon Day. If we did follow the modern wall calendar this month we would be placing New Moon Day a whole day late.

LUNAR ECLIPSES PROVE THE EARTH IS A SPHERE!

THIS MODEL EXPLAINS HOW IT IS THE SPHERICAL EARTH THAT COMES BETWEEN THE SUN AND THE MOON THAT PRODUCES A LUNAR ECLIPSE.

THIS MODEL CANNOT PRODUCE A LUNAR ECLIPSE, EVER!

BOTH SOLAR AND LUNAR ECLIPSES ARE PRODUCED BY A PLANETARY SPHERE COMING BETWEEN THE SUN OR THE MOON. IN THE FLAT EARTH MODEL, NOTHING IS PRESENT TO CAST A SHADOW ON THE MOON, EVER!

Prayer:

Father Yahuah,
When our present chapters feel heavy with sorrow, injustice,
or delay, teach us not to judge the story
before You have finished writing it.

Fix our eyes on the promised end, victory through Yahusha, restoration after loss, and triumph over every work of darkness.

Strengthen our hearts to endure with faith like Joseph, trusting that what seems forgotten is still held in Your sovereign plan.

Help us to live each day in confidence that the end of our story in You is glory, joy, and everlasting redemption.

Today, we also pray for peace in the Middle East.
We pray that this war will end quickly and most of all accomplish your will.

Barak hashem Yahusha haMashiach!
(Bless the name of Yahusha the Messiah!)

New Moon Day

The day Morning and Evening Converge and become balanced in the heavens. The only day the sun is seen in the east rising and in the west the Bright Full Moon before it's setting, their lights upon the earth as in the beginning where it says in Genesis 1:15 17

And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

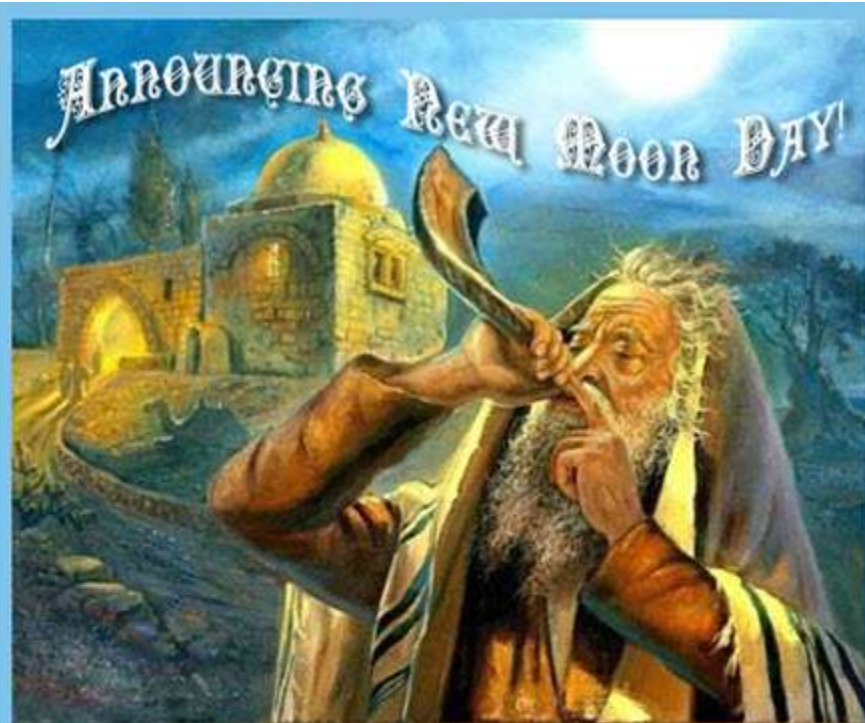

And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and Yahuah saw that it was good.

Our Head Yahuah gave to us when He gave us our New Beginning before leaving Egypt when He said in Exodus 12:2

This month shall be unto you the beginning of months: it shall be the first month of the year to you.

It is this balance according to Yahuah, His Pattern written in the heavens, spoken about in Scripture, Yahuah uniting His Children each month into His Numbering of days His Order we are learning to number our days, coming into His Feasts and Festivals and Sabbaths His Way, not ours!

*"Hear, O Yisra'el: יהוה יהוה is one!" And you shall love יהוה your Elohim with all your heart, and with all your being, and with all your might.
Debarim (Deuteronomy) 6.4-5*
