

Shabbat Shalom, all who worship Yahuah Alahim and Yahusha haMashiach on their Kadosh (set-apart) New/Renewed Moons, Lunar Sabbaths, and Feast Days according to the full moon as the start of His lunar months!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FUb6QjzvRXU>

Today is the 29th day of our Creator's Fourth Lunar Month count, in which the year begins in the spring. It is also the authentic fourth lunar Sabbath of the month. It looks like 04-29-5995. It coincides with the Roman Gregorian calendar planetary date of Tues, 07-28-2026.

Our Creator placed His full moon beacon as the original New Moon and the start of His months, high above for all to see. All praise to Yahuah Alahim for His steadfast love and compassion for His children and His patience in restoring His lost truths in preparation for the Second Coming of His Son, Yahusha haMashiach (the Messiah). Simply because the full moon as New Moon, with its count to Lunar Sabbaths and annual Feast Days, is not popular among the Rabbinical Pharisee Jews or the Romanized Christian churches today, does in no way diminish its LIGHT OF TRUTH shining from the pages of Scripture and His Eternal Throne. Only Yahuah's Ruach (power, presence, and provision) gives those who seek Him with all their hearts “eyes to see and ears to hear.” Ask Him today to reveal His New Moon and lunar Sabbath to you, and see how your life will change as your soul temple is synchronized to His for all eternity.

PLEASE NOTE: The Full Renewed Moon, which starts each lunar month afresh, will occur on the Roman calendar Thur, 07-30-2026. Also, it is my current view that this day marks the original Feast of Weeks. For information on why I have come to believe this, please visit: The Count of Shabuot. This is also the focus of our study for today.

“Blessed are those who hear the joyful call to worship, for they will walk in the light of your presence, Yahuah. They rejoice all day long in your wonderful reputation. They exult in your righteousness.”
 Psalms 89:15-16

Kerrie's Korner:

I currently believe that the Count to Shabuot, also known as the Feast of Weeks, reaches its fulfillment on the coming Full New/Renewed Moon. I do not expect anyone to accept this conclusion without first examining the evidence carefully and prayerfully for themselves. The purpose of this study is not to create a new doctrine, but to participate in the restoration of the ancient paths. Therefore, I invite every reader to consider the evidence with humility and a Berean heart, testing each point by Scripture. Should you reach a different conclusion, please present your reasons for thoughtful consideration, for no one undertakes this work of restoration alone.

The Count of Shabuot

A Fresh Look

Leviticus 23:15, 16, and 21

For generations, the Count to Shabuot, also known as the Feast of Weeks or Pentecost, has been understood through two dominant traditions. Within the Christian framework, it is widely taught as a simple count of fifty consecutive days, measured with the continuous weekly cycle of the modern Roman calendar. But in ignoring the moon as a factor, where will their count begin? In contrast, Rabbinical Judaism maintains a partially lunar-based reckoning, yet continues to rely upon the modern continuous weekly cycle, counting seven weeks that include both their conjunction New Moon Days and the transitional thirtieth day into that sequence. Consequently, the Feast is fixed to a predetermined date, the sixth day of the third lunar month, derived from a continuous count that includes all days without distinction: work days, Sabbaths, New Moon Days, and transitional days.

Yet when the Hebrew text of Scripture is examined carefully, word by word, line upon line, an entirely different pattern begins to emerge.

This study invites you to step beyond inherited assumptions and into the text itself. Through a detailed interlinear analysis of Leviticus 23:15–16, 21, supported by multiple Hebrew lexicons, we will examine whether the traditional fifty-day count truly reflects the Creator’s design, or whether critical elements have been overlooked, obscured, or even altered over time.

What unfolds is a model that challenges long-standing interpretations on several foundational points: how time is measured, what constitutes a complete week, and how the appointed times are anchored within the Creator’s calendar. Rather than counting every sequential day, the text appears to emphasize complete Sabbaths, weeks that stand whole and distinct, raising profound questions about the role of New Moon Days.

In addition, this study will revisit the very beginning of the month itself, examining compelling evidence that the original New Moon was not marked by darkness or a crescent, but by the fullness of light. As these pieces come together, a broader and more intricate framework begins to take shape, one that not only redefines the count to Shabuot, but also sheds light on the integrity of the appointed times as a whole.

This is not a call to abandon truth, but to pursue it more deeply. The goal is not to be different, but to be faithful, to test all things, to hold fast to what is good, and to allow the Scriptures to speak for themselves (1 Thessalonians 5:21).

A Word-for-Word Examination of the Count

Before forming conclusions, we must first return to the text itself.

Too often, our understanding of Scripture is filtered through translations, traditions, and assumptions that have been repeated for generations. While these may contain elements of truth, they can also carry forward subtle shifts in meaning, especially in passages where time, sequence, and instruction are central. MORE...

Song: Create in Me a Clean Heart (Psalm 51:10) Prayer Song ~ miYAH

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FCuhvGBWS6o>

Wash me!
Whiter than snow.
Pour Your oil, calm my soul.
Now is the time for restoration,
With repentance with transformation.
Father, prepare me for the times to come,
Counting the days till the Bridegroom returns.
Prepare me for your mo'edim.
Prepare me for you, my Elohim.
Create in me a clean heart, Oh Yah!
I return to You ~ Teshuvah.
Fill me with your Ruach,
Open my heart to see,
And renew a right spirit within me.
With the sound of your shofar,
Awaken my soul, wash me clean,
Whiter than snow.
You, my King are in the field,
I draw near while you're close.
Your mercy and lovingkindness
Are forever my hope.
Father prepare me
For the times to come.
Counting the days till the Bridegroom returns.
Prepare me for your mo'edim,
Prepare me for you, my Elohim.
Create in me a clean heart Oh Yah.
I return to you ~ Teshuvah.
Fill me with your Ruach,
Open my heart to see,

And renew a right spirit within me.
Renew a right spirit within me

Prayer:

Dear Eternal Father, Yahuah Alahim, give us humble and discerning hearts as we examine Your Word and seek the ancient paths You established from the beginning.
Teach us to recognize the sacred order of Your appointed times and to follow the heavenly witnesses
You placed above us.
Grant us wisdom to understand the Count to Shabuot, testing every conclusion prayerfully rather than relying upon inherited tradition.
May all your faithful hear the call to restore Your Torah, Your appointed calendar, and the redemptive pathway revealed through Yahusha haMashiach.
Prepare us as a faithful people, ready to walk in obedience, truth, and joyful anticipation of the Bridegroom's return.

Barak hashem Yahusha haMashiach!
(Bless the name of Yahusha the Messiah!)
